IWBA Welcomes New Board Members And Communications Director

Boise, Idaho March 23, 2018

Idaho Walk Bike Alliance (IWBA) has welcomed two new members to their board of directors, Alexis Pickering of Boise and Michael David of Ketchum. Also joining IWBA as communications director is Bob Anthony of Boise. Alexis Pickering is a health policy analyst for Central District Health Department serving Ada, Boise, Elmore and Valley counties. Michael David is the bicycle pedestrian program coordinator for Mountain Rides Transportation Agency in the Wood River Valley. Mr. David is also 2 years into his second 4-year term on the Ketchum City Council.

Former state government public information officer and television meteorologist Bob Anthony has joined the Idaho Walk Bike Alliance as communications director. Anthony was formerly the senior public information officer for the Idaho Department of Water Resources and has worked in the Treasure Valley media for 40 years in radio and television. "I'm thrilled to join the Idaho Walk Bike Alliance to combine my media experience and passion for cycling to work for a cause I really believe in to improve conditions for walkers and cyclists statewide," said Anthony.

IWBA board members Pickering will serve a 2-year term and David will serve a 1-year term and will join board members Pat Riceci and Don Kostelec of Boise, Bret Tinker of Eagle, Nora Locken of Moscow, Molly O'Reilly of Sandpoint, Chris Staley of Idaho Falls, Jamie Morgan of Coeur d'Alene and Niki Richards of Victor.
